

DOLCE LA HULPE BRUSSELS EXTENDS ITS RANGE

The Oasis, a trendy, conceptually novel space to stimulate group/team activity.

Dolce La Hulpe Brussels, specialist in hosting and organising meetings and conferences, had earlier made a name for itself in the MICE market with 25 meeting rooms. In its new space, Dolce La Hulpe Brussels has added 12 new rooms suited to accommodating small working groups.

A meeting space to encourage inspiration

Dolce La Hulpe Brussels, a sure asset where conferences in Belgium are concerned, now presents its new 'Oasis' facility. Based at the conference centre, it consists of twelve colourful meeting rooms, refreshingly designed to enhance creativity and to encourage everyone's participation. These rooms are grouped within a lounge space which includes a round the clock e-coffee bar to enable informal gatherings. To make them even more dynamic, flat projection screens have also been made available. An adjacent exhibition area with direct access to the parking enables the display of all manner of products such as machinery or cars, for example.

A Patchwork of photographs and bright colours

The twelve new sub-committee rooms are each designed for a maximum of 20 persons. Other than for their ergonomic furniture that is certain to prove trend setting in the future, these rooms stand out by their quite exceptional decor, thanks to a patchwork of photographs of exotic fruits and vibrant colours. These motifs and refreshing colour shades are aimed at encouraging participants to pool their efforts, and to inspire creativity. No effort has been spared in their realisation. The photographs of exotic fruits that decorate the rooms are the work of the famous Belgian photographer Serge Anton.

A relaxed environment

Aware of the benefit of breaks during day-long meeting sessions, Dolce La Hulpe Brussels has also paid particular attention to the decor of the communal areas. Natural materials, such as wood, bamboo or even pebbles were carefully chosen to create an atmosphere of peace and quiet. For maximum relaxation, participants can enjoy a seated massage or to take an invigorating coffee break. In short, everything has been put in place to benefit the effectiveness and success of any meeting.

The Dolce Philosophy

The new 'Oasis' space certainly sits well within the philosophy of Dolce, the leader since 1981 in the field of meetings. In addition to state of the art technology, the exceptional green setting, the ergonomic furniture, the specialist staff, including accredited conference organisers, the multi-service business centre, a range of restaurants and on site leisure facilities, the 'Oasis' space represents yet another asset to make Dolce the absolute number one in its specialist field.
